Tourism Information Advisor

Superior Country is a destination marketing organization, seeking individuals between the ages of 15-30 for summer employment, that are comfortable communicating with travelers in person, over the phone, and through email. The ideal candidate will have excellent communication skills and experience with social media, general administrative duties, customer service skills, knowledge of social media and online marketing/advertising, and excellent knowledge of the many different attractions of the Superior Country region (from English River in the west to White River in the east and Armstrong and Greenstone in the north).

Prime duties will include providing travelers with information at the Nipigon Tourist Information Centre, updating the Superior Country database of tourism stakeholders in the region, and day to day administrative duties. The successful candidate will also provide Superior Country staff assistance with the general operations of the organization.

Please send your resume along with cover letter explaining why you are the best fit for the position, what you bring to the organization, and why you would like this job to Superior Country Executive Assistant, Vicki Banning – email vicki@superiorcountry.ca
